

INDEX

- Adger, David, 771
- adjacency, 71 The headword is separated from the page references by a comma
- adjectives, 488, 566–7 note elision of page numbers: abbreviation and use of dash
- adpositions, 567
- adverbial function, 489, 497–8
- adverbs see punctuation note style of cross-reference
- affect, 11
- affection, 14–15
- affixes, 485, 591, 612–13 note elision of page numbers in teens
- African languages, 719
- agent, 37–8, 39, 42, 197, 540, 675
- agentive nominalisation, 31–2, 593
- Agnoli, F., 105
- agreement, 498–500, 593–4, 751–2 note elision of page numbers
- Aitchison, J., 356
- altered replication, 129–32, 133
- Alverson, H., 104
- ambiguity, 113, 329, 379, 381, 398
- amodal view, 242
- analogy, 98–9, 423; see also disanalogy If there are no sub-entries, the italic 'see also' follows on from the main entry after a semi-colon – but if there are sub-entries, 'see also' follows at the end of the list of sub-entries
- analysis (parsing), 698–9
- anaphora, 376
- Anderson, L. B., 773 Initials should be spaced, with full points
- Anglo-Saxon (Old English), 121–2
- antecedent, 376
- Austin, J. L., 417–18, 447
- Australia, 90, 144
- autonomy, 353, 613
- conceptual, 585–7 Sub-entries are indented
 - phonological, 590–1
 - syntax, 752, 753
- auxiliary verbs, 388, 490–2, 730–2
- axiality, 525–6
- Aymara (South America), 92–4